

STUDIO MURMUR | CHICAGO

Studio Murmur is a Chicago-based industrial design firm providing consulting services in design research, product design and product development. We strive to create inspired and diligently considered products that emphasize simplicity and celebrate everyday living. Rather than creating desire around trend-driven objects we focus on the qualities and values that truly define great brands and great design. We serve a variety of clients and industries including furniture and lighting manufacturers, home and office retailers, architects and the hospitality industry.

No. 9 COLLECTION

No. 9 is a collection of outdoor furniture made entirely from post-consumer waste, namely HDPE from single-use milk jugs sourced in The U.S. and Canada. The black color also contains post industrial waste from making the product itself.

99% of the waste from the manufacturing process is sent to a recycling plant where it is recycled again. No. 9 is manufactured by Loll Designs in Minnesota and shipped directly to end users from their manufacturing facility. Flat-packing and recycled packaging help to further maintain a low carbon footprint.

The No.9 is easily assembled and maintenance free. At the end of its long life cycle, it can be easily disassembled and recycled again.
